stacks. Apparently, the car did not have the promise to merit further development, as it was not seen again in 1971. Herbert Müller did just as well with a standard 512 M, finishing 4th at Mid-Ohio and 10th at Road Atlanta, while Posey was 6th at Watkins Glen in a NART 512 M.

With Ferrari using the flat-12 cars to contest the 1972 Manufacturers Championship, the traditional V-12s were no longer his front-line equipment. The old NART 312 P appeared again at Daytona with still further revised bodywork, but retired with a leaking fuel cell. The 365 GTB/4s were used by various independent teams in the Group 4 Special Grand Touring category, however, and several good results were obtained. Among these were an 8th place at Sebring by the Chinetti/Grossman NART car, and 5th through 9th places at Le Mans, in the order
